

Welcome, Lenay Santana-Gould, MD!

Neuromuscular Diseases and General Neurology

Assistant Professor, Department of Neurology

Dr. Santana-Gould is a graduate from Ponce School of Medicine, Puerto Rico. She completed her Neurology Residency at LSUHSC, New Orleans. In addition, she completed two years of fellowship in Neurophysiology, encompassing one year of Epilepsy/Sleep/ EMG and a second year with focus in EMG/ Neuromuscular training. After the fellowships, she joined the faculty at the LSU Neuromuscular Department, New Orleans. Dr. Santana-Gould has privileges at MCLNO, Touro, Ochsner Kenner and Ochsner Baptist.

Dr. Santana has special interest in all of the following:

Neuromuscular Conditions:

- a. Neuropathies
- b. Myopathies
- c. Muscular dystrophies
- d. Neuromuscular junction disorders such as Myasthenia Gravis
- e. Motor Neuron Diseases such as Lou Gehrig's Disease
- f. Radiculopathies

In addition, she will be available for consultation for General Neurology evaluation and management (except for pain management).

Physician referrals from all specialties are accepted.

To schedule an appointment with Dr. Santana, please call 504-412-1517 for the Ochsner Baptist location or 504-412-1705 for the Ochsner Kenner location. Please send your comments and questions to HNMARKETINGANDPR@lsuhsc.edu with your information and Dr. Santana will contact you.